About MoneyHelper

Life's better when you're clearer on your money and pension choices. Simpler. Fuller. Brighter. That's why we're launching MoneyHelper – a new service that's open to everyone in the UK.

MoneyHelper is here to help along the way, whatever the circumstances. Here to listen and give free, impartial money and pensions guidance that cuts through the jargon and complexity. Here to direct people to trusted support.

With MoneyHelper, your audiences will always know what to do next and how to do it, so they can act. Sorting out what's getting in their way. Looking ahead and feeling confident about their financial decisions.

With MoneyHelper, people can be clear on their money and pension choices, so they can keep moving forward.

MoneyHelper is the new consumer brand from the Money and Pensions Service.

We support organisations like yours who help customers, clients and employees to make the most of their money and pensions.

As you know, that's more important than ever.

Introduction to MoneyHelper: What? Why? And how?

- Clear money and pension guidance
- Free, impartial help that's all in one place
- Easy to use and backed by government
- Signposts to further, trusted services, if needed
- Based on your circumstances
- Available online or over the phone

Improving on, not losing, existing services

MoneyHelper brings three legacy consumer brands into one (Money Advice Service, The Pensions Advisory Service and Pension Wise). Now, these services will be in one place. Helping people to clear their debts, reduce spending and make the most of their income. To support loved ones, plan ahead for major purchases and find out about entitlements. To build up savings and pensions and know their options.

Let's make sure everyone gets the help they need. This guide and toolkit provides free materials and links, so you can:

- inform your stakeholders about the change pre-launch and signpost to our support page
- inform your audiences, where relevant, that change is coming
- update your links to our legacy brands, comms and other audience touchpoints
- continue to promote MoneyHelper from launch onwards.

Simply pick what works for you and your audiences.

In your guide you'll find:

- background on our new consumer brand: MoneyHelper
- why we are replacing our legacy brands you currently signpost to
- an overview of what makes up your MoneyHelper toolkit
- content for you to use when promoting MoneyHelper
- ready-to-post social messages to spread the word about MoneyHelper.

Using this toolkit

Feel free to use the ready-made messages and visual assets to introduce MoneyHelper and the service benefits, respond to enquiries and update your audience touchpoints that refer to our legacy brands. Thank you.

MoneyHelper background

Introducing our new consumer brand

MoneyHelper is from the Money and Pensions Service (MaPS). MaPS was formed in 2019, bringing together three financial guidance bodies and consumer brands: The Money Advice Service, The Pensions Advisory Service and Pension Wise. To date, these consumer services have continued to appear as separate brands. This is now changing, and all for the better.

Our role

MaPS was created as a single body to:

- bring together money and pension guidance and services for greater efficiencies
- make it easier for consumers to get the help needed
- provide joined-up support to enhance consumer outcomes and experiences.

MoneyHelper is a big step forward in our mission to ensure everyone can make the most of their money and pensions.

Why MoneyHelper?

MoneyHelper is built on a core consumer insight: people need to feel that they have progressed or moved on having engaged with us and feel more equipped to make better financial decisions.

Our new single consumer destination provides clarity that empowers people to act, based on their circumstances. All in one place, people can get help across a range of areas, from crisis debt support to preventive guidance. We've chosen a direct brand name to be as clear as possible – just like the information and guidance we provide.

How and when we're changing

MoneyHelper key questions answered

When are you launching MoneyHelper?

MoneyHelper will begin to be rolled out from early June 2021. Until then, we'll be engaging with organisations like yours to make the transition as smooth as possible for operations, stakeholders and audiences (end users).

How will you tell consumers about MoneyHelper?

All three of our legacy websites will display a prominent, pop-up message, notifying visitors that the respective site will soon switch over to MoneyHelper. Nearer to the launch, anyone calling our legacy brand helplines will be told about the change. Our contact numbers will remain the same.

Why are we launching a new brand?

As mentioned earlier, our new single consumer brand means we can help people further, more effectively and efficiently.

Will the services previously provided no longer be available?

No, they will just come from MoneyHelper, with the extra benefit of providing joined-up support.

What will happen to the old brands and websites?

When our new brand goes live, Money Advice Service and The Pensions Advisory Service will be known as MoneyHelper. Pension Wise will continue as a named service under the MoneyHelper umbrella. Previous online content will move to our new MoneyHelper website, making it clearer and easier for people to find the information needed. Automatic redirects will take visitors trying to access our legacy sites to the relevant MoneyHelper pages.

For any syndicated content, we will be in touch with our partners and stakeholders directly.
